OBJECTIVE

I am a third year Computer Science and Engineering (CSE) student at AIUB with a strong interest in data analysis and AI-driven technologies. I am actively building my knowledge of data analytics tools, techniques, and concepts, and I am eager to apply what I learn in real world environments. I believe that hands on experience is the most effective way to develop practical skills and grow professionally. I am highly motivated to learn, take on new challenges, and continuously improve by contributing to meaningful projects while expanding my technical expertise.
